

Black Mayors Rally to Reclaim their Organization

Written by George E. Curry
Wednesday, 29 May 2013 00:00

Untitled document

With some embarrassing internal issues addressed and its sights set firmly on expanding its global impact, the National Conference of Black Mayors (NCBM) kicks off its 39th annual convention in Atlanta this Thursday.

The theme of this year's conference is "Restore, Rebuild, Renew." And perhaps no one can appreciate the need for those three Rs more than Vanessa R. Williams, the association's executive director and CEO.

Black Mayors Rally to Reclaim their Organization

Written by George E. Curry
Wednesday, 29 May 2013 00:00

