Tampa Bay Buccaneers defensive end Amobi Okoye hosted the 5th Annual Kickoff 4 Kids Celebrity Weekend with a series of events, June 8-9th in Houston, Texas.

Okoye and the Invictus 91 Foundation hosted their 1st Annual Golf Tournament at the Wildcat Golf Club located in Southwest Houston.

On Saturday afternoon, the 5th Annual Kickoff 4 Kids Celebrity Basketball game was held at the University of Houston Hofheinz Pavilion. The fun-filled family event benefitted Future Teachers of America, and attendees got to meet some of their favorite NFL stars and Houston Texans and other celebrities.

Celebrities in attendance at the game included: Mario Williams-Buffalo Bills, Antonio Smith-Houston Texans, Connor Barwin-Houston Texans, Vonta Leach-Baltimore Ravens, Rapper "Bun-B", New Jersey Nets forward Gerald Green, and 97.9 FM Radio Personality Brandi Garcia, joined Amobi Okoye and a few of his other friends in a game of basketball.

Kickoff 4 Kids is a series of motivational youth-centered activities that foster self-esteem inspiration, and academic scholarship. The series include mentoring camps, movies and motivation, as well as scholarships.

kids the value of increased activity and healthy living. During the annual sports camp, inner-city youth receive the experience of a lifetime. Children ages 7-15, spend an afternoon with pro athletes from around the National Football League, learning the overall value of increased activity, healthy eating, and athleticism.

A scholarship is distributed annually to an inner-city high school student in Huntsville, Alabama, Louisville, Kentucky, and Houston, Texas. In order to qualify, scholars must submit an essay for review by the foundation's board of directors. The selected scholar will accompany the international division of the foundation, C.A.T.E. (Changing Africa Through Education), on its annual mission trip. Over the past four years, the foundation has given over $40,000 in scholarships to students attending the University of Houston, University of Louisville, and Alabama A&M University.

This year, the foundation's focus is "Kickoff 4 Kids House". We believe every child deserves a chance to win. Kickoff 4 Kids has impacted thousands of kids through our sports mentoring camps, and movies and motivational "Stay in School Rallies".

The Kickoff 4 Kids scholarship, in partnership with the University of Houston, Alabama A&M and the University of Louisville, supports low income children from these cities, to bring the dream of a college education alive.
