*The Jeremy Lin Foundation will kick off All-Star Weekend with an exclusive launch event. The Making a Difference Project is the first initiative of The Jeremy Lin Foundation. Houston Rockets point guard Jeremy Lin will host this event on Thursday, February 14th, the unofficial start of NBA All-Star Weekend. Lin, many of his Rockets teammates, NBA superstars, and other athletes and celebrities will take over Minute Maid Park to participate in an interactive game night experience, playing basketball, air hockey, billiards, ping pong, video games and more.

The Making a Difference Project has identified three impactful Houston community organizations and will support them through fundraising efforts and public exposure to help them continue their valuable work. Each organization will receive a grant from the Jeremy Lin Foundation, and through a social media campaign, one organization will be selected as the primary beneficiary, earning visits and appearances by Jeremy for a year. Funds generated from the All-Star event will support the Foundation's mission to love and serve children and youth, by providing hope, empowerment and leadership development.
